Comments

“ Dad, it is said, "with each passing day it becomes a little easier to accept when your loved one passes". All I can say is that with each passing day, your absence continues to break my heart! It will never be easy for me to accept that you are gone. Our time together was cut way too short. The only thing I am able to accept is that you are now in a better place, that we have you as our guardian angel to watch over us and that you are now reunited with your parents. I hope that you know how very much we all truly love you, will cherish the years of our relationship and all that we were able to share with you. Me, Nick, Jada, Bella, Kayla and Little Nick will love and miss you always and continue to remember all of our special times together while you were here with us. We will always keep your memory alive, continue to tell all of your stories and continue to hold you close to our hearts. Rest in Gods hands now and keep watch over your entire family, Dad. All my love...always and forever...Vanessa.
