Clark-Moore, Constance Anne

February 15 1949 - April 4, 2017

After a long and difficult battle with cancer, Connie has passed away on April 4, 2017. She was born February, 1949, to James E. and Mildred E. Clark. She was a graduate of Ohio University. She was an artist all of her life. She experimented with many different mediums over the years, including watercolors, oils, pastels, pencils, jewelry, and crochet. She enjoyed having her art included in different art shows throughout the city and the biggest part of all- she loved to teach. Connie was a teacher and department head at the Art Institute of Pittsburgh for 27 years. She helped form the music video business department in the 1980s and taught graphic design and visual communications classes as well. She also spent her time listening to music and reading lots of books. She was greatly loved and will be forever missed. The beloved wife of Vaclav David; loving mother of Jennifer C. Moore; loving daughter of Mildred E. Clark; and caring sister of Russell J. Clark. Memorial services will be held at Fox Chapel Presbyterian Church, April 11, 2017, 1:30 p.m., 384 Fox Chapel Rd., Pgh, PA 15238. Professional services entrusted to the care of THOMAS M. SMITH FUNERAL HOME AND CREMATORY, LTD., Blawnox. www.thomasmsmithfuneralhome.com
