

Frank J. Gentile

December 24, 1943 - December 8, 2017

Frank John Gentile "Skip"

1943-2017

Frank John Gentile, "Skip", 73 of New Kensington died at home on Friday December 8, 2017. Born December 24, 1943 in Arnold PA, he lived in the Valley all of his life. He was a graduate of Arnold High School and was a US Navy Veteran who proudly served his country.

He was a Machinist for Westinghouse Electric and progressed into a management role in Quality Control. He also worked as a Code Enforcement Officer for the City of New Kensington. He was a member of Mount Saint Peter Roman Catholic Church, Spartaco Sporting Club, and the VFW Post 92.

Mr. Gentile enjoyed tinkering with computers, cars and machines. He also spent many hours searching the internet for his next big project or experiment. He spent many nights gazing at the stars. He was known by many to tear up the dance floor in his later years. He took great pride in his most prized possessions: his children. He enjoyed spending time with his son and grandson fishing and sport shooting. He treasured the time he spent with his grandson watching a Steeler game or talking on the phone and always fixing his computer. He liked to engage in home projects and found great joy spending time with his daughter gardening and awaiting new blooms. He also enjoyed long drives while listening to the oldies but goodies with the windows down.

He was preceded in death by his wife of 33 years, Sandra Gentile (Snizaski); mother Agnes and father Andrew Gentile. He is survived by his son, Frank J. Gentile Jr., wife Angela Gentile and grandson Jerod J Gentile of New Kensington, PA.; daughter, Dana M. Gentile and John Mocharko of Monroeville, PA.; brothers, Michael Gentile and Dennis Gentile; aunts, uncles and many friends.

Funeral Service is private.
