“ Sunday breakfast with Frank was a highlight for all of us. I am so sad to hear of his passing as he's been on my mind the past few days. We each have our favorite tale from Frank. Mine had a lot to do with a Bugler cigarette machine....

“ In the past week, I've met several of Dad's neighbors in the Avalon Apartments and have been touched by the genuine sadness I saw in their faces as they expressed their sincere condolences and memories of him with me. How sweet, bittersweet. He was appreciated and loved.

“ My sincerest sympathy to the family of Frank Greppi? A dear friend and former yoga teacher at Lutheran services. He was a kind and generous man always ready to help others no matter what their needs. I knew his sister Mary for many years and did not realize when I met him that they were brother and sister? We were from the same part of town growing up but never met then and it was a pleasure to meet them both as we lived in Avalon. My family and I met Frank when we both lived at Avalon Arms and Avalon and my grandsons really enjoyed meeting him and spending time with him? Rest in peace Frank until we all meet again love and prayers?

Thank you for your message about my father; he mentioned you and your grandsons and I know that he truly enjoyed his interactions with you all. His physical heart gave out on him, but his emotional heart and how he loved everyone never did. It will continue on into eternity.

“ My Dad loved helping people, and I can remember his generosity as far back as when I was a young school-aged kid. He also loved science and learning... I think we both loved the visits to Buhl Planetarium, though they were supposed to be for... me? He gave me a book for a birthday, maybe my 8th, and it was a "Field Guide to the Sun and Planets" (for kids) and this was my FAVORITE book for several years afterward.

Dad also loved learning and teaching, and was proud of his few years teaching at a Catholic grade school before he moved on to a different career. He taught again many years later, and continued off and on through the years, even into retirement. Nothing seem to bring as much vibrancy and joy to him as when he described his classes (as student or teacher) and the interactions he had in them.

He also loved cooking and baking bread and was darned good at it! He did this in order to SHARE the food; it always tasted better to him when he was eating what he made with folks he loved. He enjoyed traveling and also found Native American traditions, art and music fascinating.

Thank you Dad, for bringing your crazy, bright, loving and generous energy to our world and never holding it back. I love you and miss you.

Thank you Courtney. My Dad loved everything he did with LSS, from way back to helping run SeniorNet, to parties, activities, seminars, classes, Silver Sneakers, and Meals on Wheels.

I am so grateful for the love and sense of community that he participated in at Primetime. I miss him and his energy, his smile, and his outrageous stories!

Although I never met Frank, I've had the pleasure of knowing his daughter Lisa. Nothing speaks louder than our children, for they are the greatest accomplishment we can have. And Lisa's loving memories speak volumes about the kind of man he must have been. My sincere condolences to his family and friends. May you remember his joy and passion and carry it with you always.

It is with great sadness that I just found out of my good friend and partner from Westinghouse's passing! Believe it or not I had a vivid thought of Frank for the last month or so! I truly believe he reached out to me ! We had some great times with the various Chairmans and the chief executives of Westinghouse! His kindness to everyone he met and his great pizza making skill will not be forgotten! Above all he was a good man and I will miss him ! God Bless you buddy I will say a prayer for you and your family!
