

Jayne L. Matvey

March 3, 1954 - April 15, 2024

Jayne L. Matvey, age 70, passed away peacefully on April 15, 2024, at her home in Sharpsburg, PA. She was born March 3, 1954 to Grace and Andrew Matvey.

Jayne graduated from the University of Pittsburgh in 1983 with a Bachelor of Science Degree. She was proficient in computer and information technology. Jayne and her partner, Harry Jackson, spent many years together. They were inseparable, and truly enjoyed spending time with one another. They both shared a zany sense of humor and attended many events in the Pittsburgh area. They enjoyed celebrating all the holidays, especially St. Patrick's Day and Halloween, dressing up in costumes which Jayne designed and created. Jayne enjoyed simple pleasures: sewing and crafts, going to flea markets, attending exhibits and art fairs, and chatting with friends and family. She was also an avid sports fan and loved the Pittsburgh Pirates and Steelers. She showed an appreciation for history and science, kept up with current events, and was a life-long learner. She was generous and kind to both family and friends; she had an ability to make the mundane funny and phone calls to loved ones were often punctuated by bouts of laughter.

She is survived by six siblings, Annette Hartman, Frances Chwalek, Maria Darbut, Joseph Matvey, Marsha Farmer, and David Matvey: also, many nieces, nephews, and cousins.

She is predeceased by her partner, Harry Jackson, her parents, and a brother Andrew Matvey.

In lieu of a viewing at Smith Funeral Home, the family has opted for a private memorial service in the future.

Tribute Wall

CE

“ Jayne was one of the most creative and talented person I’ve ever met. Hadn’t seen her in decades but I’ll always remember her laughter, humor, and seeing talent. Rest in peace Jayne. Colleen Ev.

Colleen A Everett - May 27 at 05:49 PM