

Lester P. Mangold

June 14, 1953 - March 10, 2019

Lester P. Mangold

Age 65, of Harwick, went home to his Lord on Sunday, March 10, 2019, after a long battle with cancer.

He was born June 14, 1953, son of Paul and Frances Holka Mangold. He graduated from Springdale High School in 1973. After high school, he was employed at Haskell, Inc. and later went to Allegheny Label in Cheswick. His passions were bow hunting and trout fishing. He will be greatly missed by his friends that joined him on his adventures. Les had a very friendly personality and was loved by all those he encountered on his lifelong journey. He loved to joke with anyone he met and was always ready to lend a helping hand.

Though his trials on Earth have ended, he has begun his new life with his savior, Jesus Christ.

Les is survived by his sister Christine (Dean) Stover of Apollo and a nephew, Paul Silvas of Harwick and numerous cousins.

His family would like to thank all of his "chemo girls", nurses and doctors at St. Margaret's Hospital who helped him in his fight.

As Les requested, there will be no services.

Tribute Wall

“ Lester P. Mangold

October 09, 2023 at 09:55 AM

“ Lester P. Mangold

October 06, 2023 at 11:36 AM

“ *WE ALL LOST A GOOD FRIEND AND
WONDERFUL PERSON. MIKE AND TERRY
DAVIS*

TERRY DAVIS - March 17, 2019 at 08:46 AM

“ The word "friend" in the dictionary should show a picture of Les because he was as good a friend as anyone could have. He was always supportive and I will always remember him for that. His specialty was using humor and he seemed to do that with all he met and knew. Hard to believe he has passed on, as our lives here seem so very short. He is with his creator, the creator of the entire universe, and someday we will meet again. - joe

Joseph Leone - March 16, 2019 at 07:02 AM