“ My favorite memory of Becky is when we were young, we would hang out together during the summer and her dad worked at Edgewater. She would always stop to catch a glimpse of her dad through the fence. She would get to talk to him sometimes on his lunchbreak. I was always in awe of how one little girl loved her dad so much.

“ Rare People

There are many people we will meet in our lives, but only few will leave a lasting impression in our minds and hearts.

Those people will always talk to you, listen to you, and care about your well being and happiness. They will like you for who you are and support you in all times.

It is these rare people that we will think of often and will always remain important to us in our hearts and as a true friend.

I am so fortunate to have had you for my friend.

“ Prayers to her family and friends.

This is so sad! Becky was always kind and happy.

The mention of Becky enjoying photography brought back a nice memory from teenage RHS years. Becky was a few grades ahead of me. Her mom, Lorraine, worked at the pharmacy next to my grandma's candy store. After school we were walking and Becky had a 35mm camera. She was walking & taking random photos without stopping. We laughed. She took them to Oakmont Pharmacy and put the film in an envelope to be sent off to be developed. A few days later her mom said, "Becky, these pictures are blurry. It looks like you walked down the boulevard with a camera & took pictures as you were moving." Becky said, "Yes, that's exactly what I did!" I then helped her glue the photos on a poster board for either Mr. Alsop's or Mr. Vandal's class. The point of her project was that we often rush through daily things and don't notice the beauty around us. What seemed silly at the time actually came to make sense when she glued the pictures on poster board and explained it.

May her family and friends find comfort and strength during this difficult time.

“ I can't remember a time when I didn't know Becky - from kindergarten and before through high school and into our 20's, 30's and 40's. From sleepovers to visiting her grandmother on Beech Street. From watching Pink Floyd's The Wall to Full Metal Jacket and everything in between. I have so many memories of her, they are flooding my brain. Today I cried thinking about those memories, tomorrow I will laugh about them. She was such a good-hearted, honest and dedicated woman. I will miss you, my friend. Rest easy Becky, I hope you are at peace with those you love.

“ I am so very sorry for your loss. No matter how much time would pass between seeing Becky, it would be like no time at all has passed by the end of the conversation. She has been through so much, and I pray she is at peace with her daughter, brother, father and dogs.

I've known Becky for as long as I can remember and we had such fun together growing up. She had the best memory of anyone I ever met, and even though we only kept in touch on social media, I'll really miss her. My thoughts and prayers go out to her family. Hope she and Emily are together again.
