“ to my best friend and the worlds greatest uncle.

we all miss you dearly. you where my best friend the light in my eyes, you where the person I called at 3am crying cause I cant sleep or I was nervous about a test. you listened to me to told me to breathe you calmed me down until I fell asleep. when you came to Florida you made me rub you back and your feet and I would complain but now looking back I never should have because you did everything for me you where my uncle and you left me way to soon. I look around the house now and I wish you where here, I knew how much you wanted to be in Florida. I wanted you here I couldn't wait for you to play in the pool with me every night. I needed you here... you gave the best hugs and the most appropriate advice. I was looking forward to starting my sophomore year in high school with you to come home to and spill the beans on the girl gossip at school cause you where the only one who listened. you where the candle that made my eyes light up. it was the simple things that you did that made my day such as a text or a call. it meant so much to me. I wake up in the morning and tell my self its all going to be okay and the truth is I don't think it is. in reality people can say it will get better and your in a better place but your not here this is the better place with me and Wayne and grandma and grandpa and dad. it doesn't ever get easier we just learn to get use to you being gone and I don't want that I want to be with you. looking back at the week before I knew you passed I wish I would have spent more time with you if I knew you where going to leave I would have never left you. you where supposed to be here when I got home from my trip. is it wrong to say that I would kill for just one more second with you because I would... and I could go on for hours about you but I wont I just want you to know that I love you so so so very much and I miss you more than ever right now. I love you uncle troy fly high see you soon.

~ love your favorite niece Jordyn.

“ I am so very sorry to hear of the loss of your wonderful son Troy. Dave and I have so many wonderful memories of all of our years together with the boys in school and on the soccer field. Our hearts are breaking for you and I wish we could share a hug and our love with you in person. So many good memories and times shared. Take care all of you and know that you are in our hearts and prayers. Sending Love to All.
