

Wm. Ronald Corsello

October 24, 1931 - February 8, 2023

Wm. Ronald "Ron" Corsello was born to Dr. William and Mary Corsello, the eldest of four boys - Ron, Robert (predeceased), Richard and Thomas. He grew up on Waldorf St. in the Northside of Pittsburgh and attended Nativity Elementary School, followed by North Catholic H.S. where he met treasured lifelong friends, his buddies, Joe Nowak, Jim Sismour, and Ed Uminski. He met his life-long gal, Doris Doyle, at the Friday Nativity dances.

Ron graduated from the University of Pittsburgh School of Dentistry in 1955 before entering the army. Following his discharge, he began his dental practice where he served the North Hills community that he loved for 42 years. His patients and staff became friends and family, even sometimes making house calls to his disabled patients. In his prime, Ron played golf and racquetball, and he loved a long motorcycle ride through the Pennsylvania backroads.

Over 70 years of marriage, Ron and Doris were a fun-loving couple who enjoyed traveling, spending much time with family in CA. He is survived by his wife, Doris; five children: Debbie (Richard) Basile, Ronny (Nancy) Corsello, Michael (Maria) Corsello, Jeffrey (Tammy) Corsello, Carolyn (Craig) Deily; 12 grandchildren: Travis, Natalie, Nicholas, Colin, Juliet, Chelsea, Perri, Julian, Angela, Adrian, Amelia, Lila; and one great granddaughter, Remi.

Ron had a carefree style. His infectious and quirky sense of humor rendered him a following among his children's friends and his grandchildren, who adored their Puppup. They especially got a kick out of his spot-on impersonation of Jimmy Cagney's famous line "you dirty rat"; his silly sayings (just for the "halibut"), and his legendary breakfasts featuring the celebrated "greezy omelette". If you're familiar with the song "My Way" by Frank Sinatra, his favorite crooner, that would be Ron in a nutshell.

We remember Ron with a tune on his lips and a sparkle in his eye which forged his loveliness. We miss you, Chop, and look forward to seeing you on the flip side!

If you are inclined, send a donation in Ron's name to the wonderful McKnight kitchen Meals on Wheels (select McKnight Kitchen).

A private family memorial is planned.

Tribute Wall

“ Wm. Ronald Corsello

October 09, 2023 at 09:55 AM

“ Wm. Ronald Corsello

October 06, 2023 at 11:36 AM

“ Our sympathy to the Corsello Family. A life well lived is a blessing. Thinking of you and sending our love. Fondly, George & Debbie Sagan

D. L. Sagan - February 19, 2023 at 07:04 PM